

Oral History Donation of Rights

I, _____, the story teller, and
I, _____, the interviewer, each donate this interview, its recording, and any photographs made and any material that we each provide with the accompanying recordings to the St. Mary's University School of Law. For each of us, this donation includes the release and transfer of all rights under copyright and other property laws to anything I say as well as to my image as it appears in these recordings.

We understand that this interview may be seen by others through the internet, and that images and still photographs may be made and that it may be accessed or distributed through the internet, on television or used in other media, without further consultation with either of us, by faculty or staff of St. Mary's University or other scholars or researchers.

If I, the subject, provide any tangible object, or copies of any records, to the interviewer, I hereby donate these materials and the rights to their use to St. Mary's University. ___ initials of donor.
